

DU 13/03/2024 AU 14/03/2024
10h-18h30 & 9h30-18h30

WORKSHOP ON THE CONNECTIONS
 IN WATER HISTORY:
 FRANCE-JAPAN, EARLY MODERN-MODERN,
 ENGINEERING-HISTORY

- o 13 mars 10h à 18h30, salle AS1_08
- o 14 mars 9h30 à 12h30, salle BS1_28
- o 14 mars 13h30 à 18h30, salle AS1_08

Edo [Tokyo] 1844-1848 (University of Texas Libraries)

DAY 1

“Continuity between the Early Modern and Modern Periods in Japan”(in Japanese)

[Moderator] Guillaume CARRÉ (EHESS) & Mathieu FAURE (EHESS)

10:00-10:10

[Opening/Welcome Speech]

Aleksandra KOBILJSKI EHESS, CRJ

10:10-10:50

“Irrigation Water and Engineers in Early Modern Japan - The figure of Saizo Ōhata of the Kishū Clan in the mid-Edo period”

(Japanese, on-line)

Takaki NISHIYAMA, Nihon University

10:50-11:30

“Traditional Levees in the Early Modern Japan”

(Japanese, on-line)

Hideyuki ICHIKAWA, University of Shiga Prefecture

11:30-12:10

“Classification and Modern Significance of Traditional Levees in Japan”

(Japanese, on-line)

Jun TERAMURA, Dai-ichi Institute of Technology

12:10-13:30

LUNCH

13:30-14:10

“Dutch Engineer’s Perspectives on the Developments of Port Cities in Modern Japan”

(Japanese, on-line)

Kazumasa IWAMOTO, Kyoto Institute of Technology

14:10-14:50

“Water control in Modern Japan as ‘pidgin knowledge’”

(Japanese, in person)

Julia Mariko JACOBY, University of Duisburg-Essen

14:50-15:30

DISCUSSION

15:30-16:00

COFFEE BREAK

16:00-18:00

[Keynote]

“Socio-ecological history of Paris, its rivers et and its watershed, 18th-20th centuries)”

(French, in person, translated by VINCENT FUJII Yumi)

Sabine BARLES, Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne

18H30

WELCOME PARTY

DAY 2

“History of Human-Urban Water Interaction in Japan-France”

(in English, French and Japanese with interpreter)

[Moderator] Aleksandra KOBILJSKI (EHESS) & Cyrian PITTELOUD (Lille University)

09:30-10:30

“Edo’s water system and flooding”

(Japanese, in person, translated by Cyrian PITTELOUD)

Koichi WATANABE, National Institute of Japanese Literature

10:30-11:30

“Edo’s Urban Environment: Environmental Problems in an Early Modern City”

(Japanese, in person, translated by Aleksandra KOBILJSKI)

Reiji IWABUCHI, Gakushuin Women’s College

11:30-12:30

“The Kamogawa River Landscape in the Kyoto’s Early Modern and the Modern Era”

(Japanese, in person, translated by VINCENT FUJII Yumi)

Michiko HAYASHI, Kansai University

12:30-13:30

LUNCH

13:30-14:30

“Needs and growth : rhetorical tools in parisian watersupply projects (18th-19th Centuries)”

(French, in person, translated by VINCENT FUJII Yumi)

Frédéric GRABER, EHESS, CRH

14:30-15:30

“Lost rivers in Modern Tokyo”

(English and Japanese, in person)

Shinichiro NAKAMURA, Nagoya University

15:30-15:45

COFFEE BREAK

15:45-16:45

“Circular Greenbelt and Rivers in Tokyo before World War II”

(Japanese, in person, translated by VINCENT FUJII Yumi)

Junko SANADA, Tokyo Institute of Technology

16:45-17:45

“How the Seine River was transformed since the 19th century to fulfill Paris expectations”

(English, in person, translated by Shinichiro NAKAMURA)

Laurence LESTEL, CNRS, Sorbonne Université

17:45-18:25

DISCUSSION

18:25-18:30

CLOSING

Pour plus d’informations rendez-vous sur les Carnets du Centre Japon

